Cultural Tourism DC develops and delivers authentic experiences that provide people with opportunities to learn about the District of Columbia's distinct neighborhoods. We give residents and visitors many opportunities to do this—they can walk along the city's still-growing list of fifteen DC Neighborhood Heritage Trails, take part in guided tours of the city's historic neighborhoods during WalkingTown DC, experience arts and culture during Art4All DC, and engage with the city's international diplomatic community at Passport DC. These signature programs encourage residents and visitors to explore the city, propel the local economic prosperity, activate their own creativity, and become civically engaged. Artist Dana Ellyn is a full-time painter and DC resident. She created the paintings on the Vintage DC wine labels based on the stories found on the DC Neighborhood Heritage Trails. See more of her Heritage Trail paintings and her entire portfolio at www.danaellyn.com/heritagetrails.
